

UKAEA Sponsors Whitehaven Apprentice Award

UKAEA was proud to sponsor the Mechanical Maintenance Apprentice of the year as part of the GEN II Learner Awards, presented on 9 October 2008 in Whitehaven, West Cumbria. These celebrate the success and achievement of the apprentices and adult learners who have completed their first year of training with GEN II.

Thomas Dixon and Peter Mann, UKAEA

The UKAEA's award was presented by Peter Mann of UKAEA Windscale to Thomas Dixon in recognition of "his outstanding college results...matched with natural practical ability." There were 400 guests in attendance at the ceremony including Barry Snelson, (Managing Director of Sellafield), Emer Clarke (Director of Area, Cumbria, Learning and Skills Council) and Glenn McCracken (Operations Director, National Nuclear Laboratory).

This is the fourth year running that UKAEA, as a member of the GEN II board, a joint venture training company, has co sponsored this event.
